Fuel Safety

Keeping track of new regulations in the fuel industry and your obligations to meet them can be a tricky and time-consuming part of your business.

Safe and effective fuel storage on the farm makes sense. Safe fuel storage means no more paying good money for fuel wasted through leaks, drops, and spills. We're all passionate about protecting New Zealand's unique environment and wildlife. One of the ways to do this, is by accepting our responsibility as individuals to our environment by ensuring we're not endangering or polluting this beautiful place we all call home. That's where safe and effective fuel storage comes into play, protecting our waterways, buildings, land, family, neighbours, and staff from unwanted pollutants.

To get you started, we have put together some safety information that we believe offers the best advice and guidance on regulatory and compliance issues. We will continue to monitor fuel industry developments and update our procedures. If you want to discuss any regulatory or compliance issues, just give your local RDP Territory Manager a call and we will be happy to help in whatever way we can.

Home Heating

Supplying the South Island with competitive home heating diesel. RD Petroleum is a familiar sight for rural New Zealanders, supplying bulk fuel and having self-service petrol stations dotted throughout the South Island.

RD Petroleum delivers home heating diesel in the lower South Island to the main centres; Christchurch, Timaru, Dunedin, and Invercargill, and has for several years. With increased demand, RDP has expanded into the Central Lakes District delivering diesel to Queenstown, Frankton, Jacks Point, Wanaka, Arrowtown, and Cromwell as well as the upper South Island in Nelson and Marlborough. If you live in any of these areas and are wanting to take advantage of competitively priced home heating diesel, simply contact RD Petroleum today.

There are several reasons why RD Petroleum's home heating diesel delivery service is in such high demand. Not only does RD Petroleum offer competitive pricing, but their delivery system is also uniquely designed for convenience and care. RD Petroleum operates specialist mini tankers equipped with 60-metre hoses, allowing drivers to fill your home heating tank without needing to access your driveway or enter your property. This reduces disruption and eliminates the risk of accidental damage to your home or grounds.
